Conscious And Unconscious Processes Psychodynamic The famed psychoanalyst Sigmund Freud believed that behavior and personality were derived from the constant and unique interaction of conflicting psychological forces that operate at three different levels of awareness: the preconscious, conscious, and unconscious. 1 He believed that each of these parts of the mind plays an important role in influencing behavior. Freud's Conscious and Unconscious Mind Finally, the unconscious mind comprises mental processes that are inaccessible to consciousness but that influence judgments, feelings, or behavior (Wilson, 2002). According to Freud (1915), the
